During my interactions with Ryan I took notice of how at times he appeared to be paranoid and had rapid speech. He seemed to believe things such as how people were after him and wanted to kill him.

"Mid day on 7-4-24 I learned of a stranded motorist on Colockum Pass Rd, which is not far from my residence. I went to help the stranded motorists as one of them was diabetic and was not feeling well. Upon arrival, the male and female both looked very hot, and the female was not feeling well. I told both of them who I was and that I was a volunteer firefighter and was offering to take them back to my place, out of the heat, to wait for the tow company that had been called. Both the male and female were very appreciative for the help. We loaded everyone into my personal vehicle and returned to my house, including their 2 dogs. We sat in my shop and waited for the tow company. At one point prior to returning to my place, the male tried to give me money, which I refused, stating the reason I was helping was to get them out of the heat, and the females diabetic issues, which were resolved with orange juice and some candy. Approximately 1.5 hours after arriving at my place, the tow company returned with their truck, having replaced a flat tire and driving it out for them. I was in the shop and walked outside where the male half was talking with the tow company. He then said that we were trying to scam him as he walked up and got in my face, accusing me of tricking him into a scam. He became more irate, and then stated that he was going to leave and get guns, come back and shoot the place up. This is when I called Rivercom and asked LE to step it up, as they were already enroute. The male continued to yell and accuse me of impersonating a city employee and yelling obenities. He began calling my wife names. I told him he needed to calm down, and he reacted by peeling his vest off and pulled a folding knife off his hip, opened it, and stood in a stance ready to fight. I called Rivercom again and stayed on the line until LE was out with the male."
